Definition of SEN

A child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty if he or she:

(a) Has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age; or

(b) Has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions. SEN Code of Practice (2014, p 4)

Definition of disability

Many children and young people who have SEN may also have a disability under the Equality Act 2010 – that is ‘...a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities’.

This definition provides a relatively low threshold and includes more children than many realise: ‘long-term’ is defined as ‘a year or more’ and ‘substantial’ is defined as ‘more than minor or trivial’ SEN Code of Practice (2014, p5)

1. The kinds of special educational need for which provision is made at the school

At Rolvenden Primary School we can make provision for every kind of frequently occurring special educational need without an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP). This includes dyslexia, dyspraxia, speech and language needs, autism, Asperger's syndrome, learning difficulties and social, emotional and mental health needs. There are other kinds of special educational needs which do not occur as frequently and with which the school is less familiar, but we can access training and advice so that these kinds of needs can be met.

The school also currently meets the needs of pupils with an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) with the following kinds of special educational need: Autism Spectrum Disorder, physical disability and social, emotional and mental health needs. Decisions on the admission of pupils with an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) are made by the Local Authority.

The admission arrangements for pupils without an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) do not discriminate against or disadvantage disabled children or those with special educational needs.

2. Information about the policy for identification and assessment of pupils with SEN

At Rolvenden Primary School we monitor the progress of all pupils five times a year to review their academic progress. We also use a range of assessments with all the pupils at various points e.g. Yr1 phonic screening, speech link, language link, spelling age, reading age, Cognitive Attainment Tests (CAT) Yr5 and dyslexia and dyscalculia screening tools.

Where progress is not sufficient, even if a special educational need has not been identified, we put in place extra support to enable the pupil to narrow the gap and ultimately catch up.

Examples of extra support are additional resources for use in class, additional adult support in class, small group/1-1 interventions.

Some pupils may continue to make inadequate progress, despite high-quality teaching targeted at their areas of weakness. For these pupils, and in consultation with parents, we will use a range assessment tools to determine the cause of the learning difficulty. At Rolvenden Primary School we are experienced in using the following assessment tools:

GLS Dyslexia and Dyscalculia tests, Phonographix assessments and we have access to external advisors (Specialist Teaching Service, Speech and Language Therapists, Educational Psychologists) who are all able to use additional assessment tools to advise our staff on the appropriate intervention and support for SEN pupils.

The purpose of this more detailed assessment is to understand what additional resources and different approaches are required to enable the pupil to make better progress. These will be shared with parents, put into a SEN class provision map and reviewed regularly, and refined / revised as necessary. At this point we will have identified that the pupil has a special educational need because the school is making special educational provision for the pupil which is additional and different to what is normally available.

If the pupil is able to make good progress using this additional and different resource (but would not be able to maintain this good progress without it) we will continue to identify the pupil as having a special educational need. If the pupil is able to maintain good progress without the additional and different resources he or she will not be identified with special educational needs. When any change in identification of SEN is changed parents will be notified.

We will ensure that all teachers and support staff who work with the pupil are aware of the support to be provided and the teaching approaches to be used.

3. Information about the school's policies for making provision for pupils with special educational needs whether or not they have Education, health and Care Plans, including:

3a How the school evaluates the effectiveness of its provision for such pupils

Each review of the SEN individual education plan (for EHCPs) will be informed by the views of the pupil, parents and class/subject teachers and the assessment information from teachers which will show whether adequate progress is being made.

The SEN Code of Practice (2014, 6.17) describes inadequate progress thus:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- Fails to close the attainment gap between rate of progress
- Widens the attainment gap

For pupils with or without an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) there will be an annual review of the provision made for the child, which will enable an evaluation of the effectiveness of the special provision. The collation of all annual review evaluations of effectiveness will be reported to the governing body.

3b the school's arrangements for assessing and reviewing the progress of pupils with special educational needs

Every pupil in the school has their progress tracked five times per year. In addition to this, pupils with special educational needs may have more frequent assessments of reading age, spelling age etc. The assessments we use at Rolvenden Primary School are listed in section 2. Using these it will be possible to see if pupils are increasing their level of skills in key areas.

If these assessments do not show adequate progress is being made the SEN provision will be reviewed and adjusted.

3c the school's approach to teaching pupils with special educational needs

High quality teaching, differentiated for individual pupils, is the first step in responding to pupils who have or may have SEN. Additional intervention and support cannot compensate for a lack of good quality teaching. Schools should regularly and carefully review the quality of teaching for all pupils, including those at risk of underachievement. This includes reviewing and where necessary, improving, teachers' understanding of strategies to identify and support vulnerable pupils and their knowledge of the SEN most frequently encountered SEN Code of Practice (2014, 6.37)

At Rolvenden Primary School the quality of teaching is judged by Ofsted to be good. We follow the Mainstream Core Standards advice developed by Kent County Council to ensure that our teaching conforms to best practice.

In meeting the Mainstream Core Standards the school employs some additional teaching approaches, as advised by internal and external assessments e.g. one to one tutoring, precision teaching, mentoring, small group teaching, use of ICT software learning packages. These are delivered by additional staff employed through the funding provided to the school as 'notional SEN funding.'

3d how the school adapts the curriculum and learning environment for pupils with special educational needs

At Rolvenden Primary School we follow the advice in the Mainstream Core Standards on how to adapt the curriculum and the learning environment for pupils with special educational needs. We also incorporate the advice provided as a result of assessments, both internal and external, and the strategies described in Education, Health and Care Plans.

As part of our requirement to keep the appropriateness of our curriculum and learning environment under review the Governors have made the following improvements as part of the school's accessibility planning: training of staff in improving awareness of social and communication difficulties and attachment. We intend to have a nurture room in place by April 2019, a place suitable for providing an adapted curriculum and a chill out area for children requiring 'down time'

3e additional support for learning that is available to pupils with special educational needs

As part of our budget we receive 'notional SEN funding'. This funding is used to ensure that the quality of teaching is good in the school and that there are sufficient resources to deploy additional and different teaching for pupils requiring SEN support. The amount of support required for each pupil to make good progress will be different in each case.

These are indicated on our class provision map. In very few cases a very high level of resource is required. The funding arrangements require schools to provide up to £6000 per year of resource for each pupil with high needs, and above that amount the Local Authority should provide top up to the school.

3f how the school enables pupils with special educational needs to engage in activities of the school (including physical activities) together with children who do not have special educational needs

All clubs, trips and activities offered to pupils at Rolvenden primary School are available to pupils with special educational needs either with or without an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP). Where it is necessary, the school will use the resources available to it to provide additional adult support to enable the safe participation of the pupil in the activity.

3g support that is available for improving the emotional and social development of pupils with special educational needs

At Rolvenden Primary School we understand that an important feature of the school is to enable all pupils to develop emotional resilience and social skills, both through direct teaching for instance in PSHE, social skills groups and pastoral support and indirectly with every conversation adults have with pupils throughout the day.

For some pupils with the most need for help in this area we also can provide the following list

- Support from a learning mentor
- Learning breaks
- Time out for a pupil to use when upset or agitated
- Family support officer
- Signposting to relevant agencies for support to meet specific needs
- External referral to the Children and Young People's Service (CHYPs)

Pupils in the early stages of emotional and social development (because of their special educational needs) will be supported to enable them to develop and mature appropriately. This will usually require additional and different resources, beyond that required by pupils who do not need this support.

4. The name and contact details of the SEN Co-ordinator

The SENCO at Rolvenden Primary School is presently the Interim Co-Headteacher, Sam Crinnion, who is a qualified teacher, has previously held SENCO responsibilities in a secondary school (2000-2002) and was a SEN advisor in Hammersmith and Fulham for three years (2002-2005).

Sam Crinnion is available on 01580 241444 or sam.crinnton@rolvenden.kent.sch.uk.

5. Information about the expertise and training of staff in relation to children and young people with special educational needs and how specialist expertise will be secured.

All teachers and teaching assistants have had the following awareness training: Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD), Attachment Disorder, Understanding short term memory issues. Some teachers and teaching assistants have had the following additional training: Understanding and responding to challenging behaviour, Lego therapy, Dyslexia, Nurture Group training, Understanding and responding to Sensory Processing Issues

Where a training need is identified beyond this we will find a provider who is able to deliver it. Training providers we can approach are: Goldwyn School, Wyvern School, Educational Psychologist, Speech and Language Therapist, Occupational Therapists, Physio Therapists, Specialist Teachers. The cost of training is covered by the notional SEN funding.

6. Information about how equipment and facilities to support children and young people with special educational needs will be secured.

Where external advisors recommend the use of equipment or facilities which the school does not have, we will purchase it using the notional SEN funding, or seek it by loan from another facility. For highly specialist communication equipment the school will seek the advice of the KCC Communication and Assistive Technology team.

7. The arrangements for consulting parents of children with special educational needs about, and involving them in their education.

All parents of pupils at Rolvenden Primary School are invited to discuss the progress of their children on 2 occasions a year and receive a written report. In addition, we are happy to arrange meetings outside these times. As part of our normal teaching arrangements, all pupils will be able access some additional teaching to help them catch-up if the progress monitoring indicates that this is necessary; this will not imply that the pupil has a special educational need. All such provision will be recorded, tracked and evaluated on a Provision Map and will be shared with parents.

If following this normal provision improvements in progress are not seen, we will contact parents to discuss the use of internal or external assessments which will help us to address these needs better. From this point onwards the pupil will be identified as having special educational needs because special educational provision is being made and the parent will be invited to all planning and reviews of this provision. Parents will be actively supported to contribute to assessment, planning and review.

In addition to this, parents of pupils with an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) will be invited to contribute to and attend an annual review, which, wherever possible will also include other agencies involved with the pupil. Information will be made accessible for parents.

8. The arrangements for consulting young people with special educational needs about, and involving them in their education.

When a pupil has been identified to have special educational needs because special educational provision is being made for him or her, the pupil will be consulted about and involved in the arrangements made for them as part of person-centred planning.

Parents are likely to play a more significant role in the childhood years, with the young person taking more responsibility and acting with greater independent in later years.

9. The arrangements made by the governing body relating to the treatment of complaints from parents of pupils with special educational needs concerning the provision made at the school.

The normal arrangements for the treatment of complaints at Rolvenden Primary School are used for complaints about provision made for special educational needs. We encourage parents to discuss their concerns with Class Teacher, SENCO or Headteacher to resolve the issue before making the complaint formal to the Chair of the governing body.

If the complaint is not resolved after it has been considered by the governing body, then a disagreement resolution service or mediation service can be contracted. If it remains unresolved after this, the complainant can appeal to the First-tier Tribunal (Special Educational Needs and Disability), if the case refers to disability discrimination, or to the Secretary of State for all other cases.

There are some circumstances, usually for children who have an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) where there is a statutory right for parents to appeal against a decision of the Local Authority. Complaints which fall within this category cannot be investigated by the school.

10. How the governing body involves other bodies, including health and social services bodies, local authority support services and voluntary organisations, in meeting the needs of pupils with special educational needs and in supporting the families
