

Minibeasts are any animals that are small. They usually include insects, crabs and spiders.

Minibeasts are living creatures, which means they have the same needs as different kinds of animals.

Bees are some of the most important minibeasts in the world. When they get food from plants, pollen sticks to their hair and spreads to other places.

Minibeasts are very helpful to our environment. Lots of them have different jobs.

Minibeasts live in microhabitats. These can include logs, fallen leaves and stones.