

What did the Romans do for us?

The Roman Empire spread across many countries, including Britain. They invaded for money, power and land.

Britain before the Roman invasion

The Romans made many changes to Britain and introduced new things, including:

- Roads
- Roman baths
- Gyms
- Flushing toilets
- Aqueducts
- Heating flooring
- Latin
- Calendars
- Concrete
- Newspapers
- Books

Vocabulary
Key Words	Definitions
invade	An army enters a country to become the new rulers.
Empire	A group of countries ruled over by a monarch or state.
Latin	A language spoken in Ancient Rome, no longer spoken today.
aqueduct	A man-made water channel which usually looks like a bridge.
economic	Money or wealth
political	The government or those in charge
social	The people of a country
Romanisation	Spreading Roman culture throughout a country.
tribes	A group of people who share a common language, culture and habitat.

A map of the Roman Empire

Aqueduct, Roman baths and Hadrian's Wall

